Rule Statement

Tarleton State University maintains a comprehensive emergency management plan that incorporates prevention, mitigation, preparedness and response strategies to plan and implement an appropriate action.

Reason for Rule

The plan focuses first on the protection of human life and health and then on the protection and preservation of university property and resources. Tarleton administration will cooperate with and assist federal, state and local governments and other relief agencies in disaster relief efforts, when possible.

Procedures and Responsibilities

1. The university president, the vice president for finance and administration or their appointees may allocate facilities, equipment, and personnel to assist with crisis management relief in the event of disasters.
 2. Tarleton's emergency management plan will address internal and external communications including required communications with The Texas A&M University System chancellor and board of regents.
 3. The Emergency Management Council will review and update the plan annually.
